Dust Collectors

Multi Stations Dust Collector

MULTI STATION DUST COLLECTOR - HANDLER

Dust collectors are a necessary piece of equipment in a dental laboratory. Collecting unwanted dust from dry model trimming is important in keeping a safe, clean and productive work environment. Some dust collectors feature brushless motors, boasting longer service life and minimal maintenance. Most dust collectors require compressed air to run and some require power for a vacuum motor.

Different filter systems include fiberglass, reversible filter, cartridge filter, anti-microbial, cloth bags, HEPA, gas phase, activated carbon and paper. More than one filter system may be used in a dust collector.

Handler manufactures three styles of their dust collectors with automatic shakers. These units function exactly as the standard dust collectors, but have the added feature of an automatic shaker with a lower collection tray.
